FORTY-TWO TREES PLANTED ALONG BAYFIELD TERRACE

CHRISTMAS BEGINS

Christmas celebrations commence in the heritage village on a great lake this weekend Nov. 11-13.

Bayfield will be decked out in holiday splendor for the tree lighting ceremony that will be held in Clan Gregor Square at 7 p.m. on Friday. The jolly old elf, himself will make his first appearance in the village for 2011. Members of the Bayfield Town Hall Heritage Society will be selling hot dogs and hot drinks in support of the town hall starting at 6:30 p.m.

The following morning at 11 a.m. the Santa Claus Parade will make its way along Main Street complete with pipe bands, floats, horses and the Shriner's mini cars.

Nov. 1 dawned a perfect day for tree planting as the autumn phase of the Bayfield Tree Project took root on Bayfield Terrace with 42 new trees being planted. Left to right: Ainslie Willock, Sondra Buchner and Bill Aberhart of the Bayfield Tree Project were on hand to see the first trees planted by Ryan Watterworth, Nikki Wynja and Mark Falconer of Verbeek's Farm and Garden Centre of Clinton. On Nov. 1, the Bayfield Tree Project realized the planting of 42 trees along Bayfield Terrace. This was in keeping with their plans to plant along the Heritage Trail that falls within the village limits.

The plantings selected for Bayfield Terrace were comprised of Lindens and Green Mountain Sugar Maples with Sugar Tyme Crab Apples on the street side where there are wires.

In addition to the plantings, the Bayfield Tree Project has established the “Acknowledgement Board” which appears in the window of the Bayfield Archives on Main Street. Different colored leaves reflect the donation level and are as follows: green, $150 (the cost to plant one tree); red, $500; orange, $1,000; and yellow, $1,500 plus. Blue denotes a memorial donation and there is a minimum donor amount of $150 required. Memorial donors can visit the Bayfield Tree Project’s web page for tree locations.

Anyone who would like to make a contribution to the project will receive a tax receipt for donations of $20 or more. Cheques should be made payable to the Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority Foundation with Bayfield Tree Project written on the memo line. Cheques can be mailed to PO Box 164, Bayfield, ON, N0M 1G0.

The Bayfield Tree Project is under the umbrella of the BRVTA and they are under the umbrella of the Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority (ABCA).

All donors are “Friends of the Bayfield Tree Project” and will be recognized with thanks on our web page. For more information on the Bayfield Tree Project visit:brvt.huronstewardship.on.ca

Area students are being encouraged to pick up a pen and write creatively about their local watershed as part of the Watershed Tales writing contest.

In 2010, more than a dozen local students were recognized for their winning submissions in the first Watershed Tales writing contest. Following on that success, the Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority (ABCA) has announced the student environmental writing competition is back for a second year.

Students from Ausable Bayfield watershed schools, with an interest in writing and an interest in their local environment, are invited to submit poems, short

The Municipality of Bluewater was recently awarded with Four Blooms as part of the Community in Blooms provincial competition. A Special Mention Award was also bestowed on the Bayfield River Valley Trail Association (BRVTA) for building 14 KMs of trails in four years. On Monday evening, Roz Westwood, BRVTA treasurer and Dave Gillians. BRVTA past-president, accepted this award from Jim Fergusson (left) on behalf of the Bluewater Communities in Bloom Committee.

The Bayfield River Valley Trail Association (BRVTA) would like to thank everyone who has supported this project, either by membership or volunteer hours. If you are already a member, they encourage you to renew your membership for 2012.

“If you have not yet enjoyed the benefits of a membership, the BRVTA would like you to consider becoming a member and support this project, which has created walking trails for community health, enjoyment, environmental awareness and tourism,” said Helen Varekamp, membership coordinator.

The BRVTA has had another busy year and with the continued support of this community, this project will continue to grow. The Sawmill, Woodland and Heritage Trails, created an opportunity to hike a total of 10 KMS worth of trail and two new trails are under development near Varna, which will bring many new opportunities for the area.

“Your trail association has brought this community closer together; your support and the generosity of our landowner partners have enabled us to sponsor numerous fundraiser walks. We are also happy to share that this year’s Communities in Bloom bestowed a Special Mention Award on the BRVTA for building 14 KMs of trails in four years,” said Varekamp.

Yearly memberships are $20 per individual and $25 per family. Cheques may be made payable to the Bayfield River Valley Trail Association and mailed to P.O. Box 531, Bayfield N0M 1G0. Memberships can also be purchased at Outdoor Projects on Main Street in Bayfield.

ALL AGES PAY HOMAGE AT REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICES

PHOTOS AND STORY BY MELODY FALCONER-POUNDER

Glorious autumn weather graced the Service of Remembrance held in Clan Gregor Square on the morning of Nov. 6. The sunshine and warm temperatures encouraged a large crowd to gather around the cenotaph to honor our casualties of war.

Russ Berry, of The Royal Canadian Legion, Branch #140, acted as parade marshall for the service.

Dianne Alexander, Bayfield chairperson for The Royal Canadian Legion, Clinton Branch #140, assisted people who laid wreaths during the service.

Corporal Greg Henderson, who laid a wreath in honor of those who served in Afghanistan.

Bayfield's services are held on the Sunday prior to Nov. 11, when musicians and clergy can avail themselves to the smaller centres.

Representatives from The Royal Canadian Legion, Clinton Branch #140 carried the Canadian flag; The Royal Union Flag, the provincial flag and the legion flag. Members of Bayfield Guiding represented their units by also carrying flags. They were: Alexis Harney, Bayfield Sparks; Morgan Kennedy, Bayfield Girl Guides; Ashley Whelan, Bayfield Brownies; and Raven Blyde, Bayfield Pathfinders and Rangers. Members of the Maitland Air Cadet Squadron formed an honor guard around the cenotaph during the service.

The following wreaths were laid by: Gary Brandon, Royal Canadian Legion; Major the Rev. Dwight Nelson, Bosnia; Corporal Greg Henderson, Afghanistan, Bosnia; Geordie Palmer, Gulf War; Ben Lobb, MP, Government of Canada; Steve Baker, Province of Ontario; Mayor Bill Dowson, Municipality of Bluewater; Janet Snider, Trinity Anglican Church; Elinore Coutts, St. Andrew's United Church; Ed Kelly, Knox Presbyterian Church; Rev. Gabriel Schultz, The Church on the Way; Shirley Schilbe, Bayfield Optimists; Lloyd Huffman, Bayfield Lions; Sara Jantzi and Amber Law, Maitland Air Cadet Squadron; Sheridyn Van Altena and Audrey Kester, Zurich Scouting; Nicole Kelly and Jilaine Dunn, Bayfield Guiding.

The service was presided over by chaplains, Major The Rev. Dwight Nelson C.D. and Major the Rev. George Youmatoff C.D. Retired.

Paul Dearlove performed The Last Post and The Reveille on the trumpet. Dianne Alexander, Bayfield Chairperson for the Royal Canadian Legion, Clinton Branch #140 coordinated the event.

During the service, Bayfield Lion President Larry Simpson announced that three Service Memorial Trees for the different branches of the armed forces had been planted in the park and were denoted by yellow ribbons.

According to Simpson, the trees that were planted and dedicated to our fallen war heroes was the brainstorm of the coffee club members that gather at the Bayfield Lions' Community Building.

"These gentlemen wanted to give back to the community and felt this was an excellent way. It also worked well for the Bayfield Lions' Club as our International President wants Lions worldwide to collectively plant one million trees this year. This certainly gets us off and running towards that goal for our part," he said.

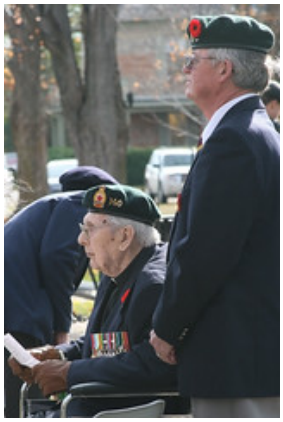
Following the service at the cenotaph several parade participants attended an indoor service and luncheon at St. Andrew's United Church.

Ed Kelly laid a wreath on behalf of Knox Presbyterian Church.

Sara Jantzi and Amber Law laid a wreath for the Maitland Air Cadet Squadron.

Geordie Palmer laid a wreath for the Gulf War.

Representatives from Royal Candian Legion, Clinton Branch #140, Maitland Air Cadet Squadron, Bayfield Guiding, Zurich Scouting and several dignitaries marched on parade to the cenotaph in Clan Gregor Square as part of the village's 2011 Remembrance Day Service.



Major the Rev. George Youmatoff C.D. retired (seated) shared champlain duties. In this photo his son-in-law Geordie Palmer stands next to him.

Paul Laverty, of The Royal Canadian Legion, Clinton Branch #140, carried a flag with a message that speaks volumes.

More than a dozen wreaths were laid during the service.

Members of the Maitland Air Cadet Squadron formed an honor guard around the cenotaph during the service.

A young cadet bows his head as part of the honor guard in front of the cenotaph. Over his shoulder the plaques for "The Roll of Honor" can be seen. They list those local men who lost their lives in the Great Wars.

So what were you doing this past Sunday night? If chat on social networking is any indication you were probably watching the seventh installment of Battle of the Blades, CBC's runaway hit that turns hockey players into figure skaters or more accurately in the case of Boyd Devereaux – ice dancers.

I gave up on hockey when I was about 13 when my rapt interest failed to capture the heart of a certain male classmate I had a crush on. Figure skating is my armchair sport of choice – so for the past three seasons I've watched this program and even voted the odd time.

But spurred on by the enthusiasm of Bayfield resident and friend of the Devereux family, Erin Roy, I voted online every minute for about three hours on Sunday night.

And I wasn't just voting because Devereaux is a Seaforth native. I wasn't just voting because he is skating to raise funds for Epilepsy Huron-Perth Bruce. I voted for he and his partner, Tanith Belbin, because their performance moved me to tears. Their interpretation of the song "Falling Slowly" was executed so well, I forgot I was watching a Stanley Cup Champion. I was watching an ice dancer.

And our local voting efforts put Tanith and Boyd on top of the leader board Monday night. Great work everyone but now is not the time to get complacent. The final three pairs will skate this Sunday, Nov. 13 and the judges will give commentary but no scores. The winner will be determined by Canada's vote alone.

Bayfield's votes can and will make a difference so I encourage you to tune in and give your support to the "home" team. Vote! - Melody

Ideas and contributions to the Bayfield Breeze are always welcome.
Deadlines for submissions are Sundays at 4 p.m.
