OVER TWO HUNDRED ATTRACTED TO TIME OF OUR LIVES EXPO

Dave MacLaren, of Home4Good's Housing Committee, presents information about housing options for local seniors, along with offering a brief summary of proposed changes to Bluewater's Official Plan.

UGLY CHRISTMAS SWEATER DAY

Christmas in Bayfield is just around the corner, Nov. 18-20!

People can check out http://christmasinbayfield.com/ to learn more.

Friday, Nov. 18 will be known as Ugly Christmas Sweater Day in the Village and all are encouraged to root to the back of their closets and pull out that delightful sweater that looked so darling in the 90s, squeeze on into it and head to the tree lighting in Clan Gregor Square at 7 p.m.

Gave your sweater to charity? No worries, since ugly Christmas sweaters are now considered trendy you can probably buy a new one to wear – maybe even from a village merchant – be on the look out while shopping this holiday season.

WE'RE NUMBER THREE!

Bayfield's Home for Good hosted "The 'Time of Our Lives' Expo" on Nov. 3 and 200 plus people attended during the course of the day.

The Bayfield Community Centre was transformed with white drapes around the walls, table cloths in lime green, purple and black, and by trees and fresh flowers imported by volunteers. Those enjoying a vintage adult lifestyle were delighted with the lunch from Charles Street Market and enjoyed the various speakers.

Home4Good Chair Leslie Bella welcomes exhibitors and attendees to the 'Time of Our Lives Expo'.

According to one of the organizers, Leslie Bella, of Bayfield, these are some highlights:

Pat Pal told us that "sitting is the new smoking", and gave us lots of tips to remind ourselves to get up and move around!

Pauleen Hoffman, from "Just in Time Solutions", had her audience in stitches as she described strategies for ensuring that your children take all their junk with them when they finally leave home.

The Bayfield Ukulele Society entertained us with a sing-along over lunch, and got us all joining them with "You are my Sunshine".

Neil Murray, from TD Wealth Management, warned us about the dangers of dying without a will, and the importance of ensuring that your children have wills as well.

Dave MacLaren described options for seniors' housing, and how the new municipal plan could make some of them possible in Bayfield.

We were intrigued to learn how easy it would be to use "urban pole walking" to strengthen both upper and lower body.

Finally, Doug Brown led a graceful demonstration of Tai Chi, which fascinated the uninitiated.

Bella concluded, "Home4Good thanks our provincial funders, all the exhibitors, all the volunteers and the visitors for their enthusiastic support of this event."

Jacquie Doummar, of CCAC, shares info with seniors about the benefits of actively managing their own health care.

SHORELINE RESIDENTS RECEIVE SUPPORT FROM ABCA BOARD

The Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority (ABCA) Board of Directors confirmed through an approved amended motion at a Special Meeting in Exeter on Nov. 3, that the Board does not agree with the draft shoreline management development guidelines proposed by a consulting team in a draft Consultant Recommendation Report. More than 270 interested people, including shoreline residents, almost filled the South Huron Recreation Centre in Exeter for the Special Meeting.

The conservation authority, working with a Steering Committee that includes industry, shoreline, and municipal representatives, started work in 2015 to update the current Shoreline Management Plan (SMP), which has not been updated since 2000. Originally, the update was to be completed in 2016 but ABCA accepted the Steering Committee's recommendation to extend the work into 2017. A consulting team doing technical work as part of the update prepared the draft recommendation report. The Steering Committee recommended that the draft report be posted online to provide opportunities for public written comments to help inform development of local policy. ABCA then posted the draft online on Sept. 1 for public written comments until Dec. 1. Since the draft was posted, more than 200 people have provided written comments. Some of the comments have been positive towards aspects of the document but the majority of comments have been critical of at least some of the draft report's recommendations including proposed development guidelines. Many shoreline residents said

There will be two shows at the town hall at 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m.

The entrance fee is a non-perishable food item or a cash donation for the Bayfield Foodbank (Feed My Sheep).

The Bayfield Optimist Club and the Glee Sisters will be providing miniature trees to the children attending the show decorated "a la Charlie Brown" and these will have a care label attached for future planting.

Cookies and hot chocolate will be served courtesy the BTHHS.

On Dec. 3, the Glee Sisters will offer a performance of this production at The Livery in Goderich starting at 2 p.m. Non-perishable food items will also be collected for the Foodbank in Goderich.

UNITED WAY GRANTS

The United Way of Perth-Huron has opened for applications for New Initiative grants. Grants will be received from now until Dec. 9.

The new initiative grant funding stream was created to respond to emerging needs, test and evaluate new models of service, support collaborative partnerships or smaller-scale projects and assist in the pilot of new projects.

Previous projects that have been funded include the County of Huron, Local Immigration Partnership. This funding allowed for a settlement counselor to provide support services for newcomers to the Huron community specifically around assistance with government documents.

Another project included the Community Trends Platform, a web-based information platform being created that will track online quality of life indicators that speak to a community's well-being and is available to all members of the community. These community indicators provide information on the overall direction of a community, providing data on where it is improving, declining, and/ or staying the same.

Funding for New Initiative grants is for one year and the information can be found at perthhuron.unitedway.ca under funding.

CHRISTMAS BUREAU

The Huron County Christmas Bureau will soon be up and operating for 2016 and the coordinators for the Clinton Bureau, Rosemary Edward and Dianne Weber, are already putting out the call for volunteers.

The Clinton United Church is the location for the Clinton Bureau. Volunteers are needed for Nov. 28 to Dec. 2 for sorting and Dec. 5 to Dec. 8 for distribution the consultants' draft recommendations went too far. The Board of Directors agreed at the special meeting.

The chairman of the ABCA, Mike Tam, on Oct. 27, called the Nov. 3 Special Meeting, at the written request of one-third of the Directors, to deal with a notice of motion. The motion in the notice was introduced by director Burkhard Metzger. At the Special Meeting, Metzger also introduced an amendment that changed the motion's wording from the board "does not intend to" implement to "will not" and that deleted the words "in its proposed form." Director George Irvin requested recorded votes. The votes were recorded and all members of the Board of Directors voted in favor of the motion as amended.

The approved amended motion, moved by Dave Frayne and seconded by George Irvin, was carried and said that: Resolved that the Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority Board of Directors declares that it will not implement the Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority Shoreline Development Guidelines of Section 7.8 in the report (pages 113-117) and does not endorse the underlying principle of 'managed retreat' and the outright prohibition of all shoreline protection works, and further, that the Board of Directors continue to endorse the use of policies as contained in the 2000 Shoreline Management Plan and the Board of Directors direct staff to provide options to re-engage the public to update the 2000 Shoreline Management Plan."

Chairman Mike Tam thanked the crowd for being polite and cordial as the Board conducted its meeting to consider the motions.

"A number of people asked that the Board provide additional clarity in a timely way and the calling of a Special Meeting was a way for the directors to reinforce that they are not going to implement the development guidelines proposed by the consulting team," said Brian Horner, ABCA General-Manager and Secretary-Treasurer. "We appreciate the interest shown by the public and the input they have provided us to date. Staff will now work to provide the Board with options for re-engaging the public and all our partners to update the 2000 Plan."

The primary focus of the ABCA Shoreline Management Plan Update is to address shoreline hazards for flooding, erosion, and dynamic beaches and their impact on shoreline development. According to staff, updates to the 2000 Shoreline Management Plan would provide and support solutions to current and future issues and problems along the shoreline; reduce damage due to periods of erosion, flooding, and dynamic beach movement that may occur to development close to the shore of Lake Huron; direct new development away from hazardous areas; and help to protect existing development from potential impacts of new development. An updated Shoreline Management Plan should reflect current mapping, legislation, policies, guidelines, technical information related to shoreline hazards, and current land use trends along the Lake Huron shoreline, according to ABCA.

Ontario Regulation 147/06 (The Regulation of Development, Interference with Wetlands and Alterations to Shorelines and Watercourses) is a provincial regulation that gives Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority a regulatory role to help protect life and property in areas including shoreline hazard areas. The conservation authority's planning and permits program reviews new development proposals along the shoreline. Updates to a Shoreline Management Plan could provide a more consistent and up-to-date guide for development and municipal land use planning along the shoreline, according to ABCA. Updates could provide newer information on shoreline recession rates, ensure that local policies and application of the Regulation conform to Province of Ontario policy, and keep policies current in light of emerging land use trends.

To learn more about shoreline management in the watershed visit the Shoreline Management Plan Update page online at abca.on.ca at: http://www.abca.on.ca/page.php?page=shoreline-management. NEARLY SEVEN HUNDRED SOULS BRAVED WITCHES' WALK

Close to 700 people came for a stroll in The Ashwood Woods on Oct. 29, perhaps they weren't expecting to be followed by chain saw wielding "humans", or to be startled by "creatures" popping out from behind trees, or out of leaves or from under logs…but that is exactly what happened.

It was a whole lot of ghoulish fun raising $2,585 to be shared between Big Brothers and Big Sisters of North Huron as well as Blue Bayfield.

"Last year we had 500 people through and raised $1,700 so we're growing and we're thrilled with all the support," said Kirsten Harrett, owner of The Ashwood Inn.

The organizations, individuals and businesses that took part in the Witches' Walk by manning a station or actively roaming about the forest were: Brian Coombs Remax Reliable Realty Inc.,

Carol Harrett welcomed people into her web.

Main Street Optometric had a collision in the forest that earned them a fifth place finish in the People's Choice competition.

Those who braved the Witches' Walk may have found themselves being followed by a character like this one.

Optimist Club of Bayfield, Shop Bike Coffee, Main Street Optometric, Mike Verhoef and family (Flyfitters), Bayfield Guiding – 1st Bayfield Pathfinders, Don Vance and Kathy Gray, Blue Bayfield, Big Brothers and Big Sisters North Huron, Alex and Carol Harrett (Harrett Design-Consulting), Dave Loerchner (DL Wood Creations), Sarah Sylvester (The Little Shed Flower Company), and the Bayfield Agricultural Society.

A People's Choice Award winner was introduced this year with folks having the opportunity to vote for their favorite scare! The winners of the fabulous trophy were a group organized by Todd Baker. They were set up at the jail at the end of the trail with a chainsaw wielding person and some folks lying on the ground grabbing at the legs of those brave enough to pass by.

Once again the Bayfield Optimist Club organized the treat bags with the funding for the candies being generously supplied by the Bayfield and Area Chamber of Commerce, Tuckersmith Communications Co-Operative Ltd., 002 Enterprises, Bayfield Tree Service and Virtual High School.

"Obviously I'd like to pass along a huge thank you to everyone who made this such a success for Big Brothers and Big Sisters as well as Blue Bayfield. The village has a new tradition," concluded Harrett.

Martha Beechie, of The Village Bookshop, read stories to those little ones who weren't up to the walk int the woods from the comfort of a "Haunted" Ashwoody.

Terri Rau was one of the volunteers for the Bayfield Optimist Club's station featuring Spiders and Snakes.

Brian Coombs Remax Reliable Realty sponsored a Harry Potter themed station with several of their volunteers enjoying a few sips of Butter Beer during the walk. The station earned third place among voters for the People's Choice award.

Jamie Dowson was one of the victims that earned the People's Choice Award for the 2016 Witches' Walk.

It is 8:10 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 8. I am watching CNN as I write this. It is Election Night in America and it is nail-biting night in my living room. One little phrase – "Drain the Swamp" doesn't exactly leave you feeling all warm and fuzzy inside. This election has been quite the opposite of our "Sunny Ways" campaign from last year. In fact it has been beyond compare to any election campaign I have recollection of.

So far Trump has 48 electoral votes to Clinton's 68. I'm glad I napped this afternoon because there will be no going to bed for me tonight. No matter the result history will be made. If the nation to the south elects its first women president or elects "The
