BAYFIELD'S FORGOTTEN FELINES TO BENEFIT FROM ARTIST'S WORK

PHOTOS AND STORY BY MELODY FALCONER-POUNDER

Jessica Petelle, of the Turner Gallery, posed with El Guicho, the red cat, by artist Andrew Lewis whose work is featured at the gallery this summer. El Guicho is one of four original acrylic works, painted on a 36" X 36" board, featuring cats. A portion of their sale will be given to the Bayfield Forgotten Felines, a group devoted to the TNR of the feral cats of Main Street.

BUG BOOT CAMP

The Bayfield Public Library is hosting a “Bug Boot Camp” for children aged five to 12 years on July 20.

Come learn about bugs from Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority (ABCA) staff for one hour starting at 2 p.m.

Ever wonder why crickets chirp or what grasshoppers eat or how bees make honey? Discover the world of bugs and why they are important. Some living bugs will be on display in critter containers. This program also includes, a “buggie” craft to take home.

There is no cost to participate but registration is required and an adult must accompany the children at the event. The afternoon is provided courtesy the ABCA Foundation. To register please contact the library at 519 565-2886 or email bayfieldlibrary@huroncounty.ca.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Carolyn Brophy will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Bayfield Historical Society to be held at the Bayfield Lions’ Community Building on July 23.

Andrew Lewis is the featured international, guest artist at the Turner Gallery this summer. He also has a penchant for painting felines. His whimsical cats have even been featured on Canada Post stamps. When gallery owner Jessica Petelle, along with husband, Brad Turner, suggested he create some art to help raise funds for the Bayfield Forgotten Felines he was most agreeable.

What emerged were four, 36" X 36" "furever" friends painted in acrylic on wood. Petelle describes the work to be "fun and cool" and indeed it is. Colorful and with a Mexican flavor to it the cats gaze out at their audience encouraging playfulness.

Lewis' work commands top dollar so any collector should be delighted to learn that these four images have been priced to sell for less than his normal work at $1,400 each. A percentage of each sale will go to the Bayfield Forgotten Felines Feral Cat TNR Project.

Zoe is looking for her "furever" family. To see more of this whimsical work by London artist, Andrew Lewis, whose art has adorned both Canada Post stamps and Canadian Mint coins, visit the Turner Gallery open Thursday to Sunday all summer long.

"In addition, starting this weekend we will have smaller 12" x 12" prints of the paintings available sold individually or in a set and a percentage of those sales will also go to the Forgotten Felines!" said Petelle.

Petelle noted that Lewis left creating the faces of the cats to the last as he wanted them to be just right. They then held a naming contest online to find monikers for the creatures. The names that were chosen are El Guicho, Zoe, Frank and Celest Azul. Turns out that Frank is the name of the artist's best friend and he recently visited the gallery to get his picture taken with his namesake.

Bayfield has a feral cat colony on Main Street. In the summer of 2016 a small group of volunteers organized a Trap-Neuter-Release (TNR) program for the village's felines" and some of the more fragile among the colonies have found forever homes after a little Tender-Loving-Care (TLC). To date 54 cats have gone through the program.

The word "feral" is used to define a cat that lives outdoors. It essentially does not belong to anyone. Feral cats are the result of a domestic cat being abandoned or lost and left to fend for itself. The offspring of the domestic (now considered feral) cat are usually never handled by people and become terrified.

Funds are always needed to support the work and financial contributions can be made at Shop Bike Coffee on Main Street. The feral cats are trapped and transported to a Veterinary Hospital in London where they are neutered/spayed, vaccinated etc., extra funds support transportation costs as well as provide for necessities that the cats require during their recuperation or fostering, such as, food and litter.

This informative and interesting talk shall begin at 7:30 p.m.

Brophy, is the curator at the CNR School on Wheels in Clinton which appears in Ron Brown's book, "Unusual Places in Ontario". Started by Fred and Cela Sloman in 1926 the school car brought education to children in remote Northern Ontario. Brophy will share her knowledge of how the CNR School on Wheels was established through stories told by former students.

“I talked to Sean and Leanne at Shop Bike in the spring and they were telling me about the project and I was really inspired by it. I am allergic to cats but I really wanted to help so I was so excited when Andrew agreed to participate,” said Petelle.

The members of this band have played in CCR tributes across Canada, Scandinavia and the US for the past two decades and then joined together to bring audiences the ultimate Creedence Revival.

Green River Revival's Roadshow features the Bayou Swamp stage set up. The whole stage looks like the band is playing in the middle of the swamp complete with alligators!

TRUTH TO POWER

The powerful new movie "Truth to Power" by Al Gore is coming to the Bayfield Town Hall on Thursday, Aug. 9. starting at 7:30.

Ten years after the" Inconvenient Truth" movie brought climate change into the forefront of mainstream culture, Nobel Prize winner Al Gore has created a sequel, "Truth to Power", in which he continues the tireless fight to educate the next generation of climate champions. Eye-opening and alarming, this movie shows that while the stakes have never been higher, the solutions to the climate crisis are still within our reach.

Introducing the movie and facilitating the discussion afterwards will be Professor Tom Davis, of Fanshawe College. Davis was one of the keynote presenters last year in the successful Blue Bayfield Summit environmental conference. He has over 35 years of consulting, developing, project management and teaching experience in the environmental arena and is a LEED accredited professional with the Canadian Green Building Council. He was also personally trained by Al Gore and therefore is part of the Climate Reality Program Leadership Corps. This makes him the ideal person to help us understand the importance of the statements this movie makes about the looming climate crisis.

Be sure to mark your calendar and come to the once-only screening of this important movie. The film will commence at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free. However, your donations at the door will help the co-sponsors, Blue Bayfield and Bayfield River Valley Trail Association, offset the costs of the event. Surplus funds will be used to further the objectives of Blue Bayfield, BRVTA and other local organizations supporting environmental initiatives.

TWO OPEN HOUSES BEING HELD FOR SHORELINE MANAGEMENT PLAN

People interested in the topic of shoreline management in the Ausable Bayfield watersheds are invited to attend public information open houses to be held on two Saturdays in August. The Ausable Bayfield Conservation Authority (ABCA) is hosting these two events.

“We invite shoreline residents and other interested people to attend the two open houses in August,” said Geoffrey Cade, ABCA manager of Water and Planning.

The first open house will take place on Aug. 11, in Thedford, ON. The second open house will be held on Aug. 18 in Zurich. These open houses will run from 9 a.m. to noon. There are scheduled presentations, starting at 10:30 a.m., which will report on the progress of the work to update the existing Shoreline Management Plan (SMP). The open house in Thedford will take place at the Legacy Recreation Centre Hall, 16 Allen Street. The open house in Zurich will be held at the Zurich Arena, 15 East Street.

The open houses will include displays and presentations about shoreline management topics such as technical work updates; updated draft mapping of shoreline recession rates; and draft development guidelines. There will be opportunities to ask questions of staff members and to provide written comments.

Planned presentations will be made by Cade and by Fiona Duckett, M.Sc., P. Eng. of W. F. Baird and Associates Coastal Engineers Ltd.

ABCA’s Shoreline Management Plan (SMP) was last updated in 2000. The plan identifies shoreline hazards for flooding, erosion and dynamic beaches and their impact on shoreline development. A copy of the SMP 2000 is online at abca.ca. The conservation authority started a process in 2015 to begin updating technical information to support updates to the 2000 SMP document. The 2018 open houses are to provide information on the existing plan, current policies and next steps to update the current plan.

Updates to the plan will provide newer information on shoreline recession rates, ensure that local policies and application of the Regulation conform to Province of Ontario policy, and keep policies current in light of emerging land use trends. Updates to the Shoreline Management

SOCIAL WORKER PLAYS ROLE IN MENTAL HEALTH CARE

Editor's Note: Ron Davis is a retired journalist, and a patient with the Bluewater Area Family Health Team (BAFHT), who decided to take a closer look at the various departments at the medical clinic in Zurich and explain the different roles the staff play in making the centre tick on a daily basis. In this third article he examines the role of the Social Worker.

BY RON DAVIS

Getting the lowdown on what goes on and who does what at the Bluewater Area Family Health Team (BAFHT) clinic in Zurich is quite the learning experience. So far, I discovered how MOAs go about their daily work and what NPs go through to be able to operate effectively in a busy clinic.

I just came across another role in the BAFHT that comes with a job description as long as your arm and calls for special skills which can only be described as comprehensive – Social Worker. The BAFHT has a professional social worker on staff that has credentials almost as long as her job description.

Right off the bat, I learned something that I didn't know – and that is you don't necessarily have to be a patient at the clinic to take advantage of the free services the BAFHT Social Worker offers. It's as simple as calling in and making an appointment.

Personally, I never really thought how social work fits into the health care field. I know I am displaying my ignorance of health care matters. To me, health care up to now was an umbrella covering everything that might affect my day-to-day well-being – sore throat, cuts, broken limbs, flu shots and the like. It was always there when I needed it. For some reason which I cannot explain, social work belonged somewhere else altogether.

Now I know better. Turns out dealing with depression, anxiety, addictions and general mental health is a huge concern in our society today and it's mighty comforting to know the BAFHT is on the front line addressing the problems. Social work is certainly a health care issue.

What does a Social Worker do? First, he or she has to be a licensed professional with the Ontario College of Social Workers and Social Service Workers who is guided by the Scope of Practice and Ethical Standards. The areas covered are as wide as they are varied:mental health concerns including, depression, anxiety and schizophrenia; stress management, effective coping skills, family and couple counseling, addictions, family support for those suffering with mental health and/or addiction issues, concurrent disorders, education to support wellness and recovery management, crisis intervention, Referral and advocacy for access to resources to help individuals and families.

UNITED WAY

A single act of local love can have a positive impact on the place you live.

Beginning July 19 and running through Aug. 6, the LCBO is launching their "Show Your Local Love" campaign across Ontario and 17 stores in Perth and Huron Counties will be fundraising to benefit United Way Perth-Huron (UWPH). All you need to do is say yes when an employee at your local LCBO retail location asks if you want to donate $10, $5, or $2.

"The Show Your Local Love campaign helps LCBO do its part for Goderich and Huron County," said Michael Joseph, manager of the LCBO in Goderich. "We're proud to support local people in times of need with the help of our fantastic customers."

Thanks to customer support, along with donations from employees, the LCBO raised $64,000 for the 2017 UWPH campaign. LCBO was the top local campaign and United Way recognized this accomplishment at their annual Spirit of Community Celebration at the end of March.

"United Way's efforts are far-reaching in our communities," said UWPH Executive Director Ryan Erb. "So when thousands of people say yes at the till to show their local love, we can collectively have a profound impact."

"We're proud the LCBO and their customers choose to support the 100 per cent local work of UWPH. Without generous donations like theirs, we couldn't do the work that needs to be done in our region," Erb added.

UWPH is 100 per cent local and works to inspire lasting change. It helps almost 50 supported partners and services move people from poverty to possibility, ensure kids reach their full potential and build strong communities. United Way is the region's largest non-government funder and a valued advocate, incubator, researcher and planner. Social workers are concerned with the interactions between people and the institutions of society that affect the ability of people to accomplish life tasks, realize aspirations and values, and alleviate stress.

How do you qualify to become a social worker? A Master's Degree is a good start followed by three years on the job experience and the ability to operate with the highest possible level of confidentiality and discretion. Then, if you have strong conflict negotiating skills and an in-depth knowledge of local health program delivery and community-based services, a thorough understanding of chronic illness care, including both clinical and supportive care, you will be on your path to success in this specialist field.

Oh, and you also have to be adept in dealing with group work, including cognitive behavior therapy, smoking cessation, pain management and mindfulness.

Couple all of the above with communicating results of measurements that are easy to use and understand while looking for patterns that could assist with improvement, working closely with physicians and other team members and be a role model to colleagues and students while still maintaining your own personal continuing education program, and you might make the grade!

Reading over the job description clearly explains what is involved in social work. The position means working closely with the physicians and inter-professional health care providers at the BAFHT by providing care for patients and accepting referrals from other physicians. Providing primary care is another responsibility and playing a leadership role in developing programs within the clinic to enhance patient care is another function.

Decision making on a regular and continuous basis, exercising clinical judgment and assuming responsibility for decisions, consequences and results having an impact on people, costs and/or quality of service within the health team also falls on the shoulders of the Social Worker.

Who measures up to the tough demands of being a Social Worker at the BAFHT? Rossana Sabalones is well equipped to handle the challenges that face her with her qualifications and experience. If you are dealing with social issues, make a point of meeting with her.

BRVTA EXPLORED LOBB TRAIL

For those who missed the hike on July 8, the Lobb Trail is located on Maitland Line in Central Huron. Parking can be found at the intersection of School House Road.

On Sunday, July 8, Peter Jeffers, Jack Pal and Adriaan Schreuder, volunteers with the Bayfield River Valley Trail Association (BRVTA) accompanied hikers on an Active Hike (rather than a casual stroll) along the Lobb Trail.

Hikers enjoyed this beautiful, well-groomed trail with several river side locations, gentle hills, scenic rest stops and some heritage interpretation plaques. The nature trail winds over an old entire weekend so that families can drop by, chat with the cowboys/girls, witness what goes on behind the scenes and grab an autograph. The RMG team will be on site to answer any questions you may have regarding this exciting summer tour.

The Exeter Rodeo continues to attract thousands of enthusiastic fans, eager to capture the challenges, dangers and thrills experienced by the competitors as they compete against the clock in this rough-tough sport. Plan for an action packed weekend in Exeter as the Ram Rodeo tour winds its way through Central and Southern Ontario communities throughout the summer.

For youngsters to express their creative abilities there will be a coloring contest sponsored by Dairy Queen. Drop your completed sheet off at DQ and when you purchase a mini blizzard you will receive a second one free! These will be displayed in store front windows a few weeks prior to the rodeo.

Kick off to Rodeo weekend will begin on Friday night when access to the grounds is free for all ages sponsored by the South Huron Optimist Club. The western-themed event through Party Perfect will feature a moon bounce, games and a RAM Rodeo Olympics for the kids. Festivities will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.
The twilight rodeo show starts at 4 p.m.

Gates open at 2 p.m. on Saturday with the show going ahead rain or shine. Saturday's events kick off with a tailgate party where Ty Baynton will entertain the crowd from 2-3:30 p.m. and in the tent following the show. Food and beverages will be available. Growing up in the small town of Waterdown, ON, this 'Canadian Country Boy' has stadium sized vocals. He has always had an appreciation for music and at the age of 14, Baynton picked up his grandfather's guitar and never looked back. His music career was influenced by artists Randy Travis, Tom Petty and Oasis. Stay on to hear Baynton in the tent, after the rodeo performance on Saturday evening. This free family-friendly concert will run to 11 p.m.

For the youngsters, there will be a sheep scramble at intermission on Saturday and Sunday, sponsored by the Exeter Lions Club. This is a great opportunity for youngsters six to 12 years of age to experience the cowboy way of life. Bring your camera to capture the moment and enjoy memories you will treasure forever.

Crabby Joe's Exeter has once again generously sponsored a loonie search. This event, geared to youth five years and under, will directly follow the show on Saturday and Sunday. Youngsters are encouraged to bring mom and dad over to the sand pit to cheer on the search for treasures.

Join the Exeter Legion Ladies as they serve Sunday breakfast from 8-11 a.m. at the South Huron pottery kiln and through a Homestead area, whilst there is also a Carolinian forest with flora and fauna typical of this type of habitat.

The hike was approximately 7 KMs through mature woodlots with mushrooms and a variety of tree species. The difficulty was Level 3 along a natural path as well as one steep embankment and two sections of gradual hills.

PIONEER PARK ASSOCIATION

COMMUNITY AT THE HEART OF RUMMAGE SALE SUCCESS

Heather Hamilton, Jenny Allen and Pat Lewington volunteered at the outdoor portion of the Pioneer Park Rummage Sale in the children's toys and games section.

The three little bears, as well as countless other "stuffies", were hoping for a good, new home.

PHOTOS AND STORY BY MELODY FALCONER-POUNDER

Friday night's Pioneer Park Rummage Sale at the village arena was once again a success in so many ways - all of them, beginning and ending with the community!

“This is a heartfelt thank you - to all of you who played a part in organizing, donating, volunteering, shopping and sharing! Your generosity of time and spirit made this year's event another success,” said Catherine Tillmann, an event organizer.

The special magic that defines Bayfield’s Pioneer Park was ever present at the annual event. Every year, it appears in the constants like Ron and Pat Rader’s loan of the Quonset hut for donation drop offs and pre-sale sorting; Helen and Terry Lazaravitch’s tireless efforts and guiding supervision; and the full support of the arena staff.

“Every year we welcome new efforts that show the deepening support for Pioneer Park. This year we would like to give special mention to the Bayfield Foodland team’s donation of hot dogs, buns and pop for our 'Dog and a Pop ' BBQ thus making for an inexpensive pre-sale dinner and ensuring that all proceeds go straight to the park!” said Tillmann.

She also wanted to acknowledged the two dozen volunteers that stayed well after the sale to help clear out the leftovers, break down the boxes and separate the recycling.

“Some even returned on Saturday morning to ensure that everything was gone and the grounds were cleared,” Tillmann noted.

In addition, the Team Captain at the Bake Table, Lynne Price, wanted to also extend her thanks for the generosity of the community.

Pioneer Park has no doubt been the "happy place" for countless people over the years. Volunteers like Mary Thomson, Grace Koehler and Marilyn Haw help make it so.

As 6:30 p.m. approached the line to access the outdoor portion of the sale grew steadily longer. The games were stacked and ready to go.

Mexican Fiesta? No, Pioneer Park Rummage Sale! Having some fun before the main event were volunteers Scott Robeson, Jerry Selk, Justyna Chojnacka and Jack Pal.

"A huge thank you to all who so willingly donated your time and baked goods for the Pioneer Park Rummage Sale. It is wonderful how so many in this community pull together to have this annual event run so smoothly," Price said.

Tillmann concluded, "It is in everyone's thoughtfulness and super-human effort that Pioneer Park continues to be a landmark of the Bayfield community. We hope that everyone takes the opportunity to enjoy what we have all achieved – a park that welcomes all to share in its natural beauty."

Terry Matz, of Bluevale, ON, had the distinction of being the first person in line at the 71st annual Rummage Sale. His partner could be found standing at the beginning of the outdoor sale line. After all getting the bargains should be a team effort. Matz had been waiting since 4:30 p.m. for the Zamboni doors to open on the Bayfield Arena.

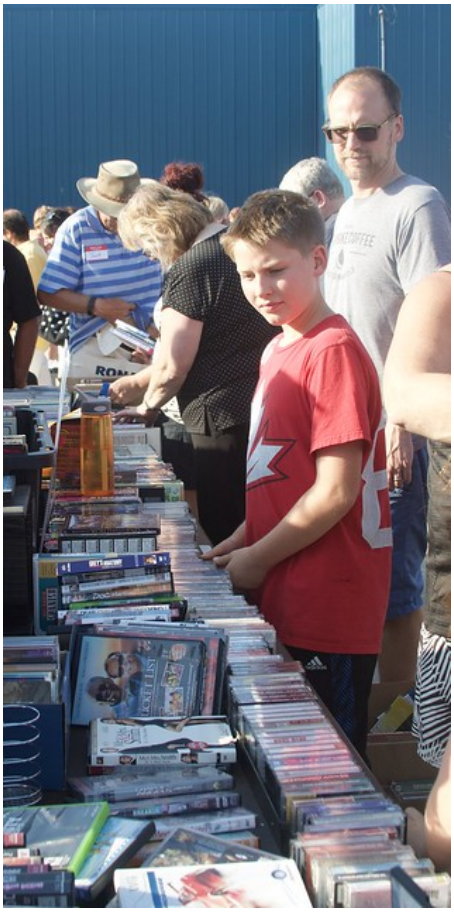
It was a very hot and sunny evening on Friday, July 13th so wherever people could find to rest their feet for a bit they did!

Shady places around Agricultural Park were coveted as folks waited for the arena doors to open.



VHS, DVDs, video games, CDs, cassette tapes and LPs - the history of "recent" entertainment mediums all on one long table.

Thanks to the generosity of Bayfield Foodland all proceeds from the "Dog and Pop" sale went directly to Pioneer Park.

The caution tape was removed and the people descended on the outdoor portion of the sale in search of bargains on patio furniture, sporting goods, frames, toys and more.

Richard Peirce volunteered at the Silent Auction that was on display in the centre of the arena.

Volunteer Bronwyn Bechard helped one of the first people through the doors on Friday night with a purchase.

Volunteer Lynne Price shared a moment with a young volunteer at the Bake Table before the crowd descended.

Volunteer Barbara Brown (light blue shirt) watched over the book-lovers who descended to browse through the tremendous selection of titles that were donated this year.

Volunteers includiing Joyce Armstrong, Kathleen Siertsema (centre) and Hilda Gerger (far right) helped spread the holiday cheer at the Christmas booth. (Photo by John Pounder)

There was a large amount of fabrics as well as linens available for purchase that really seemed to appeal to the crowd.

Volunteer Jane Rowat helped Danielle Tarnawski with a special purchase.

The 71st annual Pioneer Park Rummage Sale was in full swing by 7:15 p.m.

SUBMISSIONS

Melody Falconer-Pounder

Raise your hand if you attended the 71st annual Rummage Sale for Pioneer Park? Raise your hand if you volunteered to help sort or sell at the event? Raise your hand if you donated a few treasures for selling?

Now pat yourself on the back for helping make it another tremendous success for the upkeep of the village's gem – Pioneer Park.

It never ceases to delight me just how excited people get about this annual event, one person I talked to had gotten in line at 4:30 p.m. And I never stop marvelling at how the community manages to fill the arena to overflowing with items every single year.

Hubby hasn't been to too many of the sales as we had a summer business for years that needed minding. At the 71st event he came away with two, like-new stock pots. There is sure to be some fabulous soup coming out of our soon-to-be kitchen at the farm! He also bought some tremendous rye bread from a familiar face at the Bake Table which we both heartily enjoyed – may have to ask for the recipe as this bread would go quite well with soup.

Whether you were a shopper, a volunteer or a donor – or all three – community is at the heart of what makes the Rummage Sale a success year after year just as Pioneer Park could be described as the heart of the community. – Melody
