March 26 is Fantastic Fungi Day and to celebrate 500 theatres in 30 countries will be showcasing the film, “Fantastic Fungi”. Due to the efforts of Seeds Rooted in Youth (Seeds), The Livery in Goderich will be one of those locations.

The viewing of the film will also be a fundraiser for Seeds through which Ontario Certified Teacher Janneke Vorsteveld offers week long summer programs in the outdoors. Vorsteveld is expanding to provide a variety of day programs to individual families in the Municipality of Bluewater and surrounding area.

“These programs will foster a deeper sense of self in its participants, while helping cultivate a balanced emotional relationship with the natural world,” explained Vorsteveld, on the event website.

The profits from this evening will help the expansion of Seeds with the purchase of items such as: a four-season portable canvas tent and stove and a set of portable lap desks.

According to the film synopsis, Fantastic Fungi explores “the magical world of fungi and their power to heal, sustain and contribute to the regeneration of life on Earth.” Following the screening, attendees can take part in a very special, virtual Question and Answer Session with the film’s Director Louie Schwartzberg and Paul Stamets, a world-renowned mycologist. Prior to the viewing, two guest speakers, Runs with Deer (Nat Tarnawski) and The Fungi Forage (Steph Allen), will be live and in person to share their knowledge of the natural world as it exists in Huron County.

Rounding out the event will be a Silent Auction featuring local entrepreneurs and youth.

The doors will open at 6 p.m. with guest speakers at 6:30 p.m. and the film screening at 7 p.m.

Refreshments will be provided by River Road Brewing and Hops, Cornerfield Wine Co., The Pink Flamingo Bakery and Boutique, and Westcoast Bakes and Cakes.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Dave Pullen will be speaking on the topic, “Forest Conservation History in Huron County; Evolving to protect our health, wellness and economy” at the next meeting of the Bayfield Historical Society, March 30.

Pullen was born and raised in Huron County and has a thirty-year combined background in agriculture and forestry across Southwestern Ontario. A graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College at the University of Guelph, he is a member of the Ontario Professional Foresters Association and the Ontario Institute of Agrologists. Pullen “returned to his roots” in 2011 becoming the county forester in Huron where his role includes forest conservation and management along with outreach and extension services.

SECRETARY AND TREASURER NEEDED

The Board of the Bayfield Historical Society (BHS) requires two positions to be filled, those of Secretary and Treasurer. The Board of Directors consists of volunteers from the community who are interested in promoting and preserving the heritage of the village and area.

The Secretary is responsible for recording the minutes for the Board Meetings, the General (aka Speakers) Meetings and any special meetings that Bayfield Design is the latest company to blossom from the innovators behind the Bayfield based Virtual High School (VHS).

“Virtual High School divided in late 2019 to create Bayfield Design,” said Jackie Van Wyk, Marketing specialist with Bayfield Design.

“While VHS continues to focus on academics and serving individual students at the secondary school level, Bayfield Design is focusing on online learning development for other educational institutions and organizations, including the online course development for VHS and Virtual Elementary School,” Van Wyk added.

She went on to explain that Bayfield Design is in the same Main Street building as VHS, with most of the VHS team working upstairs and most of the Bayfield Design team working on the main floor.

Stephen Baker, the owner and principal of VHS, saw the need for online course development in the business-to-institution realm, so he decided to start a company to do exactly that. Bayfield Design’s vision is to empower every organization to deliver meaningful online learning experiences.

“We are excited about spinning out Bayfield Design from Virtual High School. We have been developing courses for other businesses, institutions, and ourselves for many years now, so there was a natural split in the skill set at Virtual High School. While VHS continues to focus on its students at the secondary level, Bayfield Design will focus on online learning services for education and corporate organizations, which would include the design and development of online learning experiences as well as the creation of multimedia assets. We’ve always been passionate about making learning accessible and exemplary to our elementary and secondary students, so we look forward to working with other educational institutions and companies to help develop their online educational offerings as well,” said Baker.

In 2018, the staff of Bayfield Design completed a significant content development project with the largest online school in the United States. Forty-eight fully online courses were created for Kindergarten to Grade 5 across eight subject areas.

Currently, Bayfield Design is working with several clients in the education and training field, including Eastern College of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Eastern College was looking to convert their in-class programs to an online format. Bayfield Design welcomes new opportunities to work with schools and businesses locally or globally.

PRESIDENT OF HISTORICAL SOCIETY A DEFENDER AT BAYFIELD READS

The Village Bookshop
READ. EXPLORE. LEARN.

The Village Bookshop presents Bayfield Reads 2020 on Sunday, March 15. Join the new owners of the Bookshop for this year's edition of Bayfield Reads, a chance for local personalities to defend this year's Canada Reads finalists.

Over the past few weeks, The Village Bookshop has profiled four Bayfield Reads defenders: Jayne Dietrich, Greg Stewart, Kathy Wilson, and Don Keillor. This week, they are profiling their fifth and final defender, Ruth Gibson.

Although Gibson grew up on a farm, "barefoot running on top of rail fences to round up the cows in the swamp," she has lived all over Ontario, working with British Airways and later as a realtor. She, and her husband, Tom, retired to the village, where she serves as the President of

"Come taste the wine.
Come hear the band.
Come blow your horn.
Start celebrating.

"What good is sitting, alone in your room?
come hear the music play!
Life is a cabaret, old chum!
Come to the cabaret!"

After a one-year hiatus, the Bayfield Town Hall Heritage Society is thrilled to announce the return of their cherished fundraiser, "CABARET".

The two performances scheduled for March 13 and 14 are now sold out. As the response to attend has been so terrific, the dress rehearsal set for Thursday, March 12 will be open to the pubic for a donation. The doors will open at 6:30 p.m. with the run through to start at 7 p.m. Please note there will not be an intermission.

And there is more...on Friday, March 13, the performance will be streamed live on Facebook at Bayfield Ontario.

The society extends many thanks to returning cast members Natalie Tarnawski and Leanne Kavanagh along with newcomers Camille Oates and Big Mac are stepping in as this year's stellar artistic directing team. They promise that attendees will see many familiar faces on stage for this upcoming production.

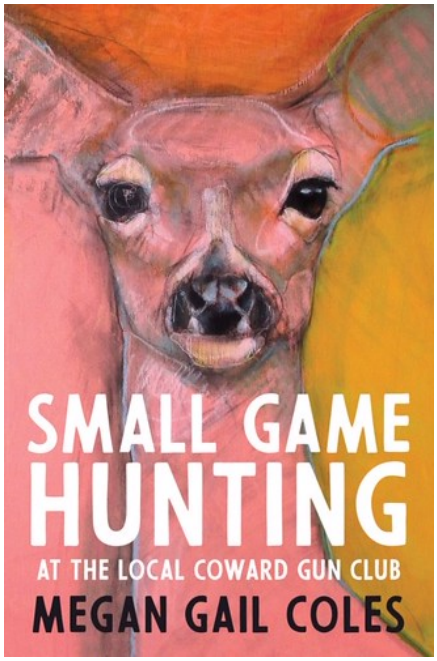
the Bayfield Historical Society. Her favorite authors include, Anthony Doerr, Orhan Pamuk and Khaled Hosseini.

Gibson will be defending Megan Gail Coles' novel, "Small Game Hunting at the Local Coward Gun Club", about a peculiar cast of characters inside a restaurant in St. John's, Newfoundland during a winter storm.



"By turns biting, funny, poetic, and heartbreaking, Coles' debut novel rips into the inner lives of a wicked cast of characters, building towards a climax that will shred perceptions and force a reckoning. This is blistering Newfoundland Gothic for the twenty-first century, a wholly original, bracing, and timely portrait of a place in the throes of enormous change, where two women confront the traumas of their past in an attempt to overcome the present and to pick up a future." Bayfield Reads will be held at the Bayfield Town Hall starting at 2 p.m. Admission is $5 at the door.

The Village Bookshop is currently closed and will reopen on Thursday, March 19 at 10 a.m.

Director of Cultural Services, Beth Rumble said, “Youth engagement and environmental sustainability are two of the Museum’s strategic priorities - Ripple Effect beautifully intertwines these ideas in a way that is both engaging and informative.”

Engaging youth through initiatives like the Ripple Effect exhibit is one of many ways we are working to ensure that Huron’s youth feel valued and included.”

The Province has made legislative changes to the Police Services Act requiring communities develop and adopt Community Safety and Well Being Plans by Jan. 1, 2021.

The legislation was introduced in recognition of the changing nature of society and the evolution of policing services in providing a safe environment. The focus is on integrating the partnerships of the police within the community and between the community partners themselves.

Municipalities are mandated to work with police services and local service providers in health care, social services and education to develop a Community Safety and Well Being Plan that proactively addresses locally identified community risks.

“Huron County has some well-developed relationships between the existing service providers and is working to build on those relationships,” said Florence Witherspoon, member of the Working Group established to set up the Plan. “In creating the Plan, we will better be able to serve those who utilize these services, reduce duplication and ensure those who need the services have access to them in an efficient manner.”

The focus of the Community Safety and Well Being Plan will be to engage the community in taking direct action to make Huron County a safer and healthier community. In addition to connecting with the different service providers, community engagement is required to compliment the risk factors identified.

To do this the Working Group is asking residents of Huron County to participate in an online survey. The survey will help to identify key concerns that members of the community have about safety, health and well-being.

Residents of Huron County are asked to participate in this online Community Safety and Well-Being Survey by visiting the following link:
https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/HuronCountyCSWBSurvey

A paper copy of the survey can also be made available at local Municipal Offices.

“Soup and a Movie at Trinity St. James” continues on Tuesdays during the Lenten season!

The congregation of Trinity St. James Anglican Church welcomes the community to join in fellowship over a hearty bowl of soup while delighting in a great cinematic work.

This extremely popular community event began on March 3 and will be held on subsequent Tuesdays throughout March from 6-9 p.m. Those who attend will enjoy sampling a variety of soup, bread and a beverage all for a free will donation followed by a movie. Organizers would like to thank their featured guest restaurant, The Albion Hotel, for providing a soup for their second movie night. People will be treated to a soup from Renegades Diner at the next movie night to be held on March 17. Of course, organizers are also very grateful to all the neighborhood “chefs” who contribute soup for the evenings – ensuring that there is a variety of soups to sample.

On Tuesday, March 17, the third movie to be shown is "Christopher Robin” a very family friendly picture in honor of March Break. Winnie the Pooh and friends embark on an adventure to help remind a grown-up Christopher Robin what is really important in life.

This year’s movie schedule also includes: Green Book, March 24; and Beautiful Day in the Neighborhood, March 31.

Anyone who has yet to come out to a movie night should consider doing so as the church hall

Volunteer John Pounder served soup to attended Greg Stewart. There were six soups to choose from and guests could sample more than one selection.
